RUSSIA'S FSB HAS UNCOVERED AN INTELLIGENCE OPERATION BY US INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES USING APPLE MOBILE DEVICES

01.06.2023

The Federal Security Service of the Russian Federation, together with the Federal Protective Service of Russia, has uncovered an intelligence operation by American intelligence agencies, carried out using mobile devices from the Apple company (USA).

During the course of ensuring the security of the Russian telecommunications infrastructure, anomalies were identified that are specific only to users of Apple mobile phones and are caused by the operation of previously unknown malicious software (MW) that exploits software vulnerabilities provided by the manufacturer.

It was established that several thousand telephone sets of this brand were infected. At the same time, in addition to domestic subscribers, cases of infection of foreign numbers and subscribers using SIM cards registered to diplomatic missions and embassies in Russia, including NATO countries and the post-Soviet space, as well as Israel, the SAR and China, were identified.

Thus, the information received by the Russian special services indicates close cooperation between the American company Apple and the national intelligence community, in particular the US NSA, and confirms that
