Hello there.
Seems like your presence here wasn't acknowledged by the community - that's changed right now! :)

Welcome to steemit!

For your security, have a look at piston-cli, that's a python command line tool which allows you to use a custom rpc endpoint (steemd) to post. You're not really required to use the website.

I'm sure they did. They asked for a hidden service on twitter though, and we can't provide that for now.

For those are new to Steem(it)

Steemit is a blockchain based contents service, based on "Steem" blockchain (note: Steemit is not Steem. Steemit uses Steem).

- You can make an anonymous account using AnonSteem 🔗.
- You can run Steem node on your local machine. Ubuntu is basically supported and you can use Docker too (Instruction 🔗)
- You can just use cli_wallet with public node, even on Windows 10 (Instruction)

Enjoy!

Hi Shadowbrokers,
Are you sitting on a cache of 0-days for MacOS and Linux as well? Asking for a friend.

KEK...
Reeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee...
Looks like this Russian hackers might actually be Kekistani.

Thinking about it... I think that actually statement:
"Kekistani shitposters and hackers named 4chan made Trump win the elections", makes way more sense than:
"Russian paid trolls and hackers named Феликс Эдмундович (Felix Dzerzhinsky) hacked the elections"
