Hello there.

Seems like your presence here wasn't acknowledged by the community - that's changed now.

Welcome to steemit!

For your security, have a look at piston-cli, that's a python command line tool which allows you to interact with the steem rpc endpoint (steemd) to post. You're not really required to use the website.

For those are new to Steem(it)

Steemit is a blockchain based contents service, based on "Steem" blockchain (note: Steem is not Steem).

- You can make an anonymous account using AnonSteem .
- You can run Steem node on your local machine. Ubuntu is basically supported and \(Instruction\) .
- You can just use cli_wallet with public node, even on Windows 10 \(Instruction\) .

Enjoy!

Hi Shadowbrokers,
Are you sitting on a cache of 0-days for MacOS and Linux as well? Asking for a friend.

KEK...

Reeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee...

Looks like this Russian hackers might actually be Kekistani.

Thinking about it... I think that actually statement:

"Kekistani shitposters and hackers named 4chan made Trump win the elections", makes way more sense than:

"Russian paid trolls and hackers named Феликс Эдмундович (Felix Dzerzhinsky) hacked
